Liturgy Is The Work Of The People

Liturgy is the work of the people. "I have always loved that definition and that our worship in the Episcopal Church is meant to be our mutual expression of praise, prayer, thanksgiving and Eucharistic celebration rather than a performance by a select few for an audience of consumers.

When I first began attending an Episcopal Church in 1998, I was gradually introduced to the beliefs of this church through the ways in which the liturgy spoke to me:

- I observed that the homily was not the focus of the service as it had been in the church of my youth. Everything (readings, music, prayers, homily) seemed to point toward the Eucharist that was celebrated every week, not four times a year. Liturgy had a direction and that was toward God's holy meal that we shared together.

"Easter is not a day or a season. It is a way of living our liturgy out loud. What pieces of our liturgy speak to you about what we believe?"

—Rev. Carole Wageman

would turn to face the reader as though we were the ancient church gathered around to hear the word of God. Liturgy had living touchstones to our Christian legacy.

- I was blown away at my first Easter Vigil that began in complete darkness and silence with only candlelight passed from a single Pascal candle making its way down the aisle in the darkened church. The chant: "The light of Christ" followed by our chanted response "Thanks be to God" held mystery and mysticism. In the semi-dark, we heard the ancient stories of Creation, Noah and the Ark, Abraham, Moses' success in gaining freedom for the Hebrews who

St. Luke's Invites You To A Seder Meal On Sunday, April 6

St. Luke's invites you to participate in a traditional Seder Meal on Sunday, April 6 in Willard Hall, beginning at 6:00 p.m. St. Luke's began holding Seders in 2006 as a way of acknowledging our common Jewish biblical roots. The Seder is a ritual meal that celebrates the Jewish festival of Passover (when the Israelites were "passed over" by the angel of death when the tenth and final plague (the death of all the firstborn) was visited upon Egypt.)

Christians, whose traditions are rooted in Judaism, share the Passover experience of a people enslaved and then redeemed when God brought them to freedom, to covenant, to a Promised Land. Through the centuries the ritual of the Passover has allowed each generation of Jews to relive their history and make the story its own. Through the ritual found in this "Haggadah" (the book of readings for the seder service*), Jews and Christians can remember and share the momentous events of God's call and redemption: the Story of Passover.

As we celebrate the Seder at St. Luke's, we are mindful and respect the religious significance of the Seder to our Jewish brothers and sisters and have strived to include some of them in the planning and executing of the meal. The

Proud To Be An Episcopalian

I attended this month's Diocesan Council meeting and came away amazed. We reviewed the Diocesan Budget for 2014 and I found a small footnote about employee health insurance contributions that intrigued me. Instead of the flat 20% of the total premium cost being paid by each employee, which is how the majority of American employers structure their health insurance program, the Diocese has implemented a formula requiring that employees pay only a percentage of their annual earnings for their health insurance coverage. Employees who earn more, like the Bishop and Lynn Bates, pay more for their coverage. Employees who earn less pay less. When I asked the Bishop why he had pursued this radical policy, he said, "because it's fair and the right thing to do."

We open each Council meeting with a prayer for the poor and, at the end of the meeting, we ask ourselves how the business conducted during the meeting might impact the plight of the poor. Each parish in the Diocese is being asked to confirm that they are paying all of their employees a "liveable wage" and, if not, to increase that wage. The Diocese has focused on poverty and we are doing Christ's work, seeking to help the disenfranchised. I, for one, feel really good about it.

*God's Blessings,

were slaves in Egypt, the Valley of Bones from the Prophet Ezekiel. The chanting was haunting. The collects and prayers were striking. The first Eucharist of Easter was not on the morning of Easter Sunday with all its bells and whistles, but as part of this evening liturgy. The light of God dawned in our hearts as we heard the story reach its conclusion with "Alleluia!!! Christ is risen!! Christ is risen, indeed!!! Alleluia!!!" Liturgy was a living and experiential manifestation of God's love come among us.

The learning continued in the weeks after Easter when I observed that we did not say the confession during those weeks of Eastertide (the weeks following Easter before Pentecost). As I wondered why and explored this with the Priest, I learned that the omission of the confession is not a novelty. "It is a well thought through theological and liturgical choice on the part of the authors of the Book of Common Prayer (BCP) and the General Convention that approved it over thirty years ago."^[1]

I realized this was the Episcopal Church's way of gently living out the theology that we believe we are forgiven by God even before we ask. The season of Easter is so wonderfully filled with such an amazing message of joy and love that one way to express that wonder is by coming to God's table knowing we are fully forgiven and fully loved and fully wanted regardless of our own ideas of how little we might think we are worth in God's sight. Easter is not a day or a season. It is a way of living our liturgy out loud. What pieces of our liturgy speak to you about what we believe? I would love to hear your ideas and experiences.

*Blessings,
Rev. Carole*

Meet St. Luke's Office Guild...

The "Office Guild" is the brain child of Rev. Carole who last July came up with an idea for a new kind of ministry at St. Luke's. Her thought was to form a group of volunteer administrative assistants (from the parish) who would be willing to manage the church office during the weekdays and take on some simple tasks. In August, three persons responded, Lisa Crocker, Mike Saul (who has since moved to CT), and Jean Hancock—all eager to get started. In September, Carole held a luncheon meeting, inviting these three plus anyone else who might be interested. Marti Assenza was added to the team as a result. Tasks and ideas of what the guild could accomplish were discussed and a tentative schedule worked out for the hours and days someone could man the office and a schedule of office hours was published in the Sunday Bulletin. Since then much has been accomplished in organizing the outer office, files and doing various tasks such as assembling the Sunday Bulletins. Marti began a card ministry and Jean had been gathering information to update the Church Directory. It is still a work in progress and help is still needed to man the office. If this is an something you'd like to try, please speak with Rev. Carole.

Our Parish Portfolio Is In Review By The Bishop

The Ministry Discernment Committee has completed the narrative responses to 12 Questions the Diocese has required. It was a daunting task, but with diligence and faith in each other, your committee listened to comments from the parish. There was a pattern to the careful, thoughtful and considerate comments coming from the pews. We listened and we redrafted several responses to our original drafts. At our last meeting on March 6th, the committee shared a delicious meal prepared by Bonnie Watters. Lynn Bates, Canon to Ordinary and Transition Minister for the Diocese, was able to join us, thus getting a first hand perspective of our committee at work. Her visit was timely as she is about to attend the annual deployment conference with her peers from all over the USA in Florida. The meal and fellowship offered us an opportunity to ask her questions about the discernment process; especially what comes next following the submission of our portfolio to Bishop Ely. Sharing a meal also set the tone for a most productive meeting, whereby the 12 portfolio questions were completed.

On May 14 Bishop Ely, along with our Transition Team, is scheduled to visit and meet with Vestry and MDC to discuss and review our Portfolio. Once finalized our position is posted on The Episcopal Church Office for Transition Ministry website for "receiving names." Next comes a waiting period as interested rector candidates submit their names for consideration to our Bishop. Once approved, names are then passed onto MDC. Your committee then begins interviewing these individual candidates to recommend three candidates to the vestry who will then select and call a new rector.

In the meantime incorporating additional information on our own church website continues. With the help of Pat Fromberger, a comprehensive new timeline, "The Banner Years," covering the ministry of Paul Brannock-Wanter has been added to the History Page, along with a special new page called "Our Giving Tree." Furthermore, the exciting activities surrounding our Sunday School continue to be posted almost weekly, along with external links to photos of the children, their teachers and their learning experiences. These additions expand on subjects described in the Transition Portfolio. As Rev. Carole would say, "Check it out."

St Luke's Seder Meal...

Seder is a family-centered affair and children have a significant part to play. It is rich in tradition and a time for joy, good eating, singing and celebrating God's redemption of us all. We hope you will come join us and invite your friends and neighbors.

Kathryn Wright and Bonnie Watters are organizing this year's dinner, so if you have questions or wish to volunteer to help, be sure to let them know. Also look for a sign-up sheet at church to make your commitment to come, to cook, to prepare that Sunday afternoon and to clean up.

Space is limited to about 85, so make your reservations early and be sure to include Jewish families in our community in your plans. Suggested donation: $10 age 12 and up, $7.50 age 5-11, under 5 free. Please make a reservation by April 1st by calling the Harrisons at 875-2784.

Additional Footnote: It has been suggested that those coming to the Seder on April 6, would gain a better understanding and become more familiar with the Seder Meal ritual by reading ahead of time the booklet, The Passover Celebration. Copies are available in Willard Hall if you wish to borrow one (keeping in mind they need to be returned in time for use at the Seder.) Please speak to Bonnie Watters or Rev. Carole.

New Treasurer Takes The Helm

At the March Vestry meeting, Bonnie Johnson was welcomed as St. Luke's new treasurer as she takes over from Sally Hoover. Three financial issues she addressed are as follows:

- A need to hire a payroll service to deal with the idiosyncrasies of clergy payment and investment options. The Vestry approved this request.
- As Bonnie lives 90 minutes from Chester, she suggested we consider adding an Assistant Treasurer who is familiar with QuickBooks/and or is willing be trained. This position would be in addition to Assistant Treasurer, Norm Harrison, who is responsible for signing checks, handling the Sunday plate, making deposits, and handling revenue.
- Audit Committee: 2 members are needed. Bonnie as treasurer, cannot be on this committee. Sally Hoover can't do it this year because she was treasurer in 2013. Anyone interested should speak to Bonnie about duties involved.

Footnote: The rest of the March Vestry Meeting highlights will be posted on the church bulletin boards due to the shortage of space in this month's newsletter.

2014 LEGO Contest Best Yet!

NewsBank's spacious Conference Center was the setting for this year's LEGO Contest on Saturday March 1. People loved its extra room, special refreshment area, and additional bathrooms (thank you, NewsBank!). Around 175 adults and children came from 15 towns in Vermont and three in New Hampshire to participate and view the 50 amazing original creations made by young people in Pre-K through Eighth Grade. Entrants were up by 25% over last year; and this year schedules allowed all three wonderful, experienced judges (Chris Johnson, Chris Meyer, and Andrew Pennell) who worked as fast as they could to speak with each entrant to learn his or her aims and special design features, and then write positive comments on each participant's entry card about what was most appealing or impressive to them.

The extended St. Luke's family had great representation among the LEGO engineers and designers: Caitlyn Johnson and Cole McLaughlin (children of Chris Johnson), Noah Jones, Zoe Meyer, Luke and Susannah Pennell, and Carter, Field, and Morgan Willis.

Support from sources in addition to NewsBank helped make the event successful. Lisai's donated some food supplies. Muffins from Adelaide Johnson and Willis coffee cake supplemented cider donuts purchased from Allen Brothers. Donations towards prizes from Vestry members and parishioners amounted to $555—which allowed for bigger and better prizes and assured us before the registrations came in that expenses would be covered. Those donations, combined with $560 in entry fees and $79.31 from food sales, yielded a total gross income of $1,139.31. Total expenses were $529.95. With the net profit at $609.36, the Vestry approved a $200 donation to the Whiting Library's Children's Section. Remaining proceeds sent $409.36 to St. Luke's General Fund.

Special thanks go to Polly Montgomery for answering my plea and manning the refreshments and taking pictures; to Kathleen Willis and David Willis for their help in registration, setup, and cleanup; and to William Lake and Lew Watters for their photography (most important since my camera ate all my pictures). Suggestions for improvement for 2015 from attending parents included having a big tarp with a huge amount of LEGOS for activities while waiting for judges to complete their rounds and having kids vote on a Kids' Choice award. Other suggestions from the workers are to secure one more judge to speed things up; only offer Allen's cider donuts (we ran out at 11:00 a.m.); and recruit more volunteers and photographers. If you think you might want to become involved next year, please let me know.—Lillian Willis

Last Night I had the Strangest Dream –Yikes! Men in the Choir!

The opening lines of a song in the 60's were, "Last night I had the strangest dream I've ever dreamed before. I dreamed the world had all agreed, to put an end to war." We sang it with a sense of reverence for what a world at peace would be like, with a sense of the daunting commitment that would require of every country and every individual, and with great longing for the future of the world.

Well, on a much smaller and more do-able scale, I had a really strange dream last night—that there were some men in the choir. I thought of all of the "conditions" I had heard mentioned that would have to exist before some of our great male voices would join us—"if you could find me another tenor, if my son would sing with me, if you could find another man to sing, if you could find another bass, ...

Well, last night I had the strangest dream—that all of the male singers in our congregation decided to drop their conditions and just showed up ready to make a joyful noise unto the Lord. And, if you all came on the same day, some of the conditions would be fulfilled. You could take the choir to new heights (or depths, you basses)

With great longing for a co-ed future and a fuller sound for the choir, —Jane Davis

P.S. There is a special Choir Rehearsal on Saturday, April 12, from 10:00 a.m.-Noon at the church. Any men (or women) who wish to sing with the choir for Holy Week & Easter, are invited to come join us that day! Let Jacob McLaughlin know if you have an interest.

The Outreach Corner

Maple Fest Again Successful!

The annual Maple Fest Dinner/Raffle held Saturday, March 22, was again another successful fund raiser for PINS (Partners in Service). 62 people attended the ham dinner with sides and desserts all with a touch of maple. This year Shiraz and Pinot Gregio wines were offered and those partaking could make a donation.

The infamous raffle had many fine gifts creating some thoughtful moments of how to disperse the tickets and choose items to win. John Hoover again was the emcee for this event and captured everyone's attention and heighten the suspense as winning names were pulled. The dinner brought in $619, the raffle amount was $286 and donations for the wine was $51. The total was $956, but with expected donations the total will be over $1000.

Many people contributed to this successful night by donating to the raffle; baking desserts; posters and advertising; preparing the ham, beans, potatoes, salad, squash; waiting on tables, working the kitchen, carving, serving, clean up; and donating the wine. Without the assistance of all these people we could not have pulled this off. And besides raising funds for PINS, the more important feature of the Maple Fest was that everyone had an enjoyable evening.

Once again we have made contact with our liaison person at Child and Family Services in Springfield so that PINS could provide 3 needy families with Easter dinners, boxes of food staples and Easter baskets for all the kids.

Partners in Service is faith communities and Human Service agencies collaborating to help local children and families in need.—Marcia Clinton

Outreach Committee Regroups

The new co-chairs of the Outreach Committee, Jane Davis and Sally Hoover, would like to invite all who are interested to attend a meeting of the Outreach Committee on Sunday, April 27th, starting right after the 8:00 service (around 9:00 a.m.). St. Luke's has a strong commitment to reach beyond the walls of our church, to serve the greater community. As a church, we are committed to donate 10% of our "pledge and plate" income to service organizations in our community and beyond. In the past we have donated 60% to state and local organizations and 40% to organizations abroad.

We welcome all who are interested in Outreach. We invite both the people who have served on the Outreach Committee in the past as well as people who are new to the committee and/or the church to come and bring your fresh ideas and enthusiasm to the meeting on April 27th. We look forward to seeing you there!!

New Flapjack Master Debuts At The Pancake Supper

The Shrove Tuesday Pancake Supper was a great feed with a masterful flipper, Ross Jones, and Amy and their children, Lily & Noah assisting Bonnie & Lew on Tuesday, March 4. Our invited guests, our special families, the Kings and Harris, made connections with the Jones family and other parishioners. Neighbor Barney enjoyed talking and eating at his table. There were over 35 guests and we think that the 96 Harrison sausages and the 180 plus featherlight pancakes and bowls of delicious fruit salad contributed to the joy of the evening. A plentiful number of children—we counted a dozen with beads and Alleluia signs! The supper also raised a handsome sum for St. Luke's bottom-line.
